

The fast-acting weedkiller.

Spray weeds with 'Weedol' and its chemical formula interferes with the weeds' normal food production process.

So that instead of nourishing weeds, light will actually kill them.

This speedy, effective action has helped to make 'Weedol' No.1 in weed-killers. Plus, of course, the fact that it won't harm the ground.

It's totally inactivated on contact with the soil, so you'll never find it spreading to the roots of other plants. You will kill only what you spray.

Care for your garden.

Ici.

The Times (London, England), Thursday, Apr 03, 1980; pg. 2; Issue 60592. (81 words)

Category: Display Advertising

© Times Newspapers Limited

Gale Document Number:CS33916547