

GENUINE ORGANIC FERTILISERS

of every description including all fine Meals originating from Meat, Fish, Blood, Bone, Hoof, Horn, etc. Also "Rough" Manures such as Wool Shoddies, Feather Waste, Fur Waste, Hair and Bone, etc. These are all high in Ammonia and/or Phosphates and low in price.

They constitute real plant food, inasmuch as they not only supply a regular steady feed to the crop, but at the same time furnish the ESSENTIAL HUMUS to the soil.

allow for losses. Main sowings of broad beans can also be made. Turn-sown onions should now be in good condition for planting in well-prepared ground. A dusting of soot raked in is official. Make the bed firm and set out the plants in rows 1 foot apart, allowing 9 inches between the plants. Fill gaps in the spring cabbage bed with the best plants still in the seed-bed. A pinch of nitrate of soda to each plant will give them a start. Hoe the bed well, working a little soil towards the plants from each side. The date of the first planting of early potatoes depends on the shelter available. A warm border is essential and light soil is preferable. Large areas should not be planted and some means of temporary protection should be obtainable. Sow the various winter greens, including kale, broccoli, sprouting broccoli and Savoy cabbage.

ON THE AMENITY FRONT

The campaign against ugliness on allotments is being conducted with unabated vigour in many districts. Allotment societies and local authorities are raising the amenity standard in many important allotment centres in all parts of the country and the best type of allotment holder is backing up these efforts. A few examples of what is being done follow.
